Open Doors
Through Your Minds

Doors opened August 22 for Grant County High as the students open the doors to their minds once again to gain more knowledge. The beginning of the year is a time for newness, especially for the freshmen as they advance into a world of new experiences. For everyone else there must be reacquaintance with old friends, as well as the development of new. Some other important things are catching up on summer activities and discussing the start of untrodden classes. Clubs try to win new members with promises of exciting activities. Locker and locks are assigned.

Summer activities become a thing of the past as the new year begins.

School days! School Days! Ah those golden rule days!

This was the slogan for many people as schools in Kentucky began again. But alas, this was not the cry of Grant County Students as they started August 22. As the heat pressed over the hundred degree mark, despair and grief were felt by both students and teachers alike as the relentless heat pounded on.

Yes the heat was ominous but it could not keep the enthusiasm down of the students as they met with their friends. Seeing friends was not the only reason for excitement though. The school appeared to have undergone a metamorphosis. With the aid of new paint, the halls and rooms had taken on a pleasant atmosphere. Walking outside was no longer a difficult task from new paved sidewalks. But over all the big change was the abundance of round tables found in the lunchroom instead of the traditionally rectangular ones. The thoughts of the new arrangement seemed to take all sides of views. Angie Gillespie, junior siad, "The tables will let students see and talk to one another better." While freshman Beth Renaker said, "They cause too many problems trying to get around to your table."

New additions to the school were not the only changes that occurred. Teachers, principals, guidance counselors, and the book store were found in unfamiliar places. Due to the freshmen's orientation, the freshmen had an advantage over the upperclassmen, but still everyone was in a frenzy trying to find their classes. Within a week, things were moving freely.

The changes were not only in the location in the classes itself, but also in the type of classes that were offered. Programmed into the schedule were Computer Math and Physics.

The classes of G.C.H.S. are very proud of the times they have shared. Freshmen through Seniors all share exciting moments while preparing for the future. Through determination and hard work, students and faculty both have joined together in making Grant County High School.

With all these changes, attitudes of the students are starting to change. Changing to make the very best of Grant County High School!

Mixed Feelings

As school once again approaches opening day, feelings of frustration and excitement are felt by students and teachers alike. Looking forward to the daily routine of preparing one's self, attending mind-boggling sessions known as classes, going home and working on the assignments that come from these classes and then to rest one's self to prepare for oncoming days seems to make students want to run in horror from the thought.

— Steve May

For those who enjoy their summer, they regret to see the doors open once again. Junior Doug Parks is such an example. He spends his summer swimming, golfing, and playing softball. Regretting to attend school for such reasons are also felt by teachers such as John Money.

Even though it may appear that the majority of students dread school, there are some who wish for the oncoming school year. Senior Vanessa Beach replied that if school had not started, she would have drove herself into the ground building fence. Working is not the only reason for students wanting to attend school. Juniors Pam Jones and Kim Hillenbrand find that school gives them something to do and a chance to see friends.

The beginning of school definitely brings frustration and excitement to many students attending G.C.H.S.

A Lot of Things Shared

Student Life

What is student life all about? In the beginning of the 1983-84 school year students at Grant County High School began to discover what student life really involves. A lot of things are shared during your times spent at high school, whether it is a simple hello from a friend as we walk down the hall or sharing a joke with some classmates.

No high school year would be complete without rock-n-roll. This year Michael Jackson as well as Quiet Riot, ZZ Top and Prince seemed to be the craze not only at our school but many others as well.

Live, Love, and Laugh

Learning to live, love and laugh is all a part of student life. It is a time when students become more independent and face new experiences. During the time spent in high school students need and depend on their friends. Relationships are made between friends of the same and opposite sex that will continue many years after we graduate and after everyone has gone their separate ways.

The fun times shared throughout high school years are memories kept close in the heart forever. The activities vary from day to day but the fun seems to never stop. Life, love, and happiness are definitely contributing factors in making school life more enjoyable.

Friends Forever

Being a part of the crowd is important to everyone, but fitting in with the "in crowd" isn't as hard as everyone thinks it is. tell your true friends by their loyalty. True friends are rare and we should all value the time we spend with them, especially during our high school years. Being a Part of Something

Being a part of something is what academics is all about. The classes we choose are projections of ourselves. They prepare us for life and things that interest us. Specialized courses lead us to specialized fields for which we are trained. One of these many special classes including English, Advanced Math, and Biology are the advances we at G.C.H.S. has made in computer technology. Computer courses have been offered to the students. Many students seem to enjoy these classes because they prepare them for the unknown challenges that college life will bring to them.

Things seem to work out with every individuals help. People are what academics are all about.

Gaining Great Knowledge

— Jeff Martin

Academics is a large contributing factor in making the student more prepared and aware of the world they will eventually have to face. Gaining great amounts of knowledge helps each individual in college, careers, and life itself. People helping people is how the academic process carries on.

Along with the traditional reading, writing, and 'rithmetic, courses are offered to the students to give them a chance to express their creativity, explore their potential, and test themselves. The variety of courses range from Advanced Placement English to Advanced Placement Biology to Calculus, Yearbook to Graphic Arts to General Shop and Home Economics. All these classes plus many more, help the Grant County High School students get a brief education with preparation for the future. Together the students with the teachers' help, will accomplish this goal.

Students Prepare for

— Craig Johnson

The advanced departments in school help develop students in the specific area they do well in.

The Junior and Senior Advanced Placement English classes help prepare students for future college English classes. Taking this class enables students to have an opportunity to prepare themselves for a test given at the end of the year, which may earn them college credits in English.

Advanced Placement Biology is yet another advanced placement program for students whose interests point towards science. They also have the opportunity to take a test which may earn them college credit.

These classes are beneficial to students who are planning on exploring one of these fields as careers. This is just one of the many ways that Grant County helps their students further their education for their life ahead.

Occupational Training

Available to G.C.H.S. students for training are two vocational schools: Northern Kentucky State Vocational School and Kenton County Vocational School. These schools help students get the education and preparation they need for future occupations. Classes in the Health and Mechanics fields, among others are offered.

Another opportunity for students is Co-op. A job is provided for students interested with the aid of Mrs. West and Mrs. Brill. Both Vocational Schools and Co-op are great assets for students as they venture out in the world on their own, looking for experience and steadiness in the job of their choice. Training and development are very important for students in their search for future skills. Grant County has continued to show its interest for the students in preparing them for the future by offering such things as vocational training and Co-op.

High Tech High

— Craig Johnson

Even though Kentucky is not ranked high upon the educational scale, Grant County High School tries hard to keep up with technology. This year a computer math class was added to enhance the classes offered here at G.C.H.S. Many students have signed up for other beneficial courses involving computers, including Office Procedures and Business Communications for example. Next year the typing II classes will be using computers rather than using the electric typewriters that are now available.

The classes in math such as Trigonometry, Calculus, and Algebra offer a new opportunity for the graduating seniors to prepare themselves for life's accomplishments that lie ahead. This year new computers and next year's added technology will aid in improving Grant County's ranking in education.

School: A Time of Mixed Feelings

School, a time of mix feelings. Students come to learn. Learn from who? Teachers are there to help students throught the years of the academic learning process, trying to make it more enjoyable. But this job could never be classified as easy.

Most teachers would agree that teaching is sometimes exasperating, sometimes unrewarding, sometimes almost hopeless. In fact, they might say that sometimes they feel like they are trying to place a square in a circle or ramming their head into a brick wall. But those same teachers would probably say that the positive aspects far outweigh the negative ones.

Improving Education

As school enters into the 1983-84 school year, the superintendent and board members of the Grant County School System try to think of ways of improving on the education of the students and the way the system is run. This duty is not just limited to the beginning of school and not just through the nine months of school but is a year round task. The board office purchased a larger bus garage in order to have better conditions for transportation. The new garage was formerly Passerello/Hurst car lot which is south of Williamstown. This provides better excess for all schools in the county.

Working Together

Cooperation is an all-important factor to the Administrators of Grant County High School. When one looks about the school, administrators can be found all-about to do their job more effectively. Mrs. Beth Conrad, the front office secretary, handles a variety of problems. She keeps the financial records, answers the phone, bandages the students; overall keeps the office running smoothly. Mr. Gene Wynn is the vice-principal taking the responsibility of the early dismissals, excuses and absences. The guidance counselor, Mrs. JoAnn Brill attends to the many duties of the students. With her hectic schedule it would seem that Mrs. Brill would not have time to help with other things, but she always has time to listen to the students and their personal problems. At last but definitely not least is Mr. John Brill, principal of the high school. Mr. Brill deals with student and teacher problems in combination with the school. Together they work to make the best of school.

Teaching Staff Increases

In the 1983-84 school year the teachers of G.C.H.S. found that two new teachers were added to the staff to help carry on the process of learning.

The first of the two was Mr. Carl Webster, a former principal of G.C.H.S. for 10½ years. Due to heart problems he was forced to resign. After two years of retirement, he came back to teach English.

The second was Mr. Terry Ousley. His task was watching over students in study hall as they further their education.

By two new additions being added, G.C.H.S. worked toward the best educational program possible. Together with the help of the teachers, perfection can be achieved.

Striving for Better Education

"Due to Kentucky's low ranking in education, students and teachers need to realize the great value of education. I think G.C.H.S. is slowly achieving this goal," states Mr. Donny Martin. This comment sums up the total picture of school life here at G.C.H.S.

Teachers and students alike seem to strive harder for education even though cuts had been found in the budget. With this, it just shows that with a teachers help, an education can be achieved.

To make this process more enjoyable, students had the help of many teachers such as Ms. Curtis. When asked what she thought of G.C.H.S. her reply was, "Wow! Far out!"

Behind the Scenes

There is more to the scene than just students attending school and being taught by the dedicated teachers. There is more to school than having a group of Administrators laying down the rules and making improvements to insure things run more efficiently. If one looked closely behind the scenes, they would find a group of truly dedicated people who could be called the backbone of the school. These people present smiles to the students and do their best of making lunch time a pleasant experience. These people are referred to as our cooks. The head of this line is Mrs. Wynn who provides the best nutrition for the students and teachers alike. These people are the true mechanics of Grant County High School.

Custodians Fight Never Ending Battle

The backbone of the school is not complete as a whole with the cooks alone. Making up the final parts of the efficiency of the high school are the custodians. When students and visitors look upon the pleasant atmosphere no one seems to think of who is responsible for the cleanness of the school. Long hours are spent before and after school not to mention during the school hours cleaning up after and for the students. Their job at times may seem to be an never-ending battle and frustrating but they always return to their work each day to do their best.

Let's Play Games!

Grant County High School offers many different kinds of sports for students in which to participate. The different types include cheerleading, track, cross country, baseball, basketball, and golf. Many Grant County High School students are active in sports, and the ones that aren't often join in on the fun by attending the events. These different activities provide entertainment and make the school year more enjoyable, more exciting, and more meaningful.

The sport of cross-country is increasing everywhere. More runners are improving and everyone is determined to win. But with this year's team consisting of 3 Seniors, 2 Juniors, and 3 Sophomores, compiled an undefeated record on the home course. After having finished Runners-up in regional competition they continued on to the state meet at the Kentucky Horse Park.

Mark Kinsey was the leading runner for Grant County. He was 12th in the state. He was also followed by his brother Marlon Kinsey, who finished 21st.

Kelli Phillippi came in 10th in the state meet at the Kentucky Horse Park and Angela Adkins came in 25th. All Grant County runners are looking forward to another good year!

The Varsity Braves opened their 1983-84 season with a victory against their cross-county rival, the Williamstown Demons on November 15. They then won their next two games against Gallatin Co., and Walton-Verona. Then the Braves broke their 3-0 record by losing to Maysville on November 29. The Braves didn't lose their spirit. They went on to win the Boone County Invitational Tournament which took place on December 1, 2, and 3. The Braves lost their next two games against Shelby Co. and Pendleton Co. The Braves then won their next 4 games against Owen Co., Mason Co., Western Hills, and Conner. The Braves then lost to Boone Co. on January 6. The Braves won the rest of their scheduled games except 2. They lost to Pendleton and Conner. (cont.)

The Varsity Braves had a successful season; they had a record of 22 wins and 8 losses. The Braves took their winning record to the District Tournament which was held at Williamstown this year. The Braves drew Owen Co. and easily defeated them, which enabled them to play Scott Co. in the finals. Grant County defeated the Cardinals in overtime with a score of 58-56. The Braves were declared 32nd District Champs and went to Regionals at Henry County. There the Braves lost in the first round to the Bullitt Central Cougars.

Season High-lights

The girls started their regular season with the Gallatin County Invitational Tournament. We were proud of the girls triumph over Spencer Co. with a tally of 42-37. They then were up against Bracken Co. in which we were defeated 37-51. The victory over Switzerland Co., 64-36, led us coming home in 3rd place. The girls played an outstanding game against Williamstown at the District Tournament with a whopping 63-19. Unfortunately we weren't as lucky March 2nd at the next District game when we fell short to Scott County. But that didn't hamper our spirits and we placed 2nd in the Districts, which led us to Regional. Players, cheerleaders, and fans were then ready for the journey to Oldham Co. March 9 for a rendezvous with Bullitt East. Even though we were saddened with a 43-24 score, we had a great season and were proud of our girls. Senior Shawnna Webster says "I'll miss being with everybody and the road trips they were a lot of fun. I won't miss running or Mr. Davidson yelling." Senior Gail Hubbard says "This year wasn't the best, but I did enjoy myself most of the time, especially the thrill of winning and the fun of celebrating. Four years of high school basketball will be hard to forget, but I must look ahead to college."

J.V. Wins

The Junior Varsity Basketball Team of 1984 consisted of Tim Day, David Shelton, Marlon Kinsey, Mark Kinsey, Steve Knarr, Tim Webster, Jr. Eldridge, Chuck Stephenson, and Gregg Stith. These boys worked hard to bring about a winning record of 17 wins and 5 losses. The starting five for the J.V. Braves were Tim Day, David Shelton, Mark Kinsey, Marlon Kinsey, and Steve Knarr. Junior Tim Day accidentally broke his wrist during practice and Sophomore Jr. Eldridge started in his place. Coach Don Martin was very proud of his team and felt that they did an excellent job. The Future Junior Varsity Braves hold a promising chance for another winning season in 1985.

Challeng-ing Year

Grant County Girls Junior Varsity opened a season that proved to be another exciting and challenging year with Coach Marcus Camacho. Pendleton Co. was their first opponent for the season, although defeated with a final score 22-28, they put forth their best effort and were determined to make a comeback. Their determination to win proved victorious, for when up against Carrol Co. and Simon Kenton they played outstanding and defeated both schools. Unfortunately the next 3 games we weren't so lucky and we fell short to Scott Co., Oldham Co., and Dixie Heights. Traveling cross-county to Williamstown they were up against their rivals the Demonettes. This game was very successful, with a final score of 16-8. Left in the season were 6 games in which the Squaws lost the first three and ended the season with a winning streak of three games, which tallied the record with 6 wins and 6 losses. They will all be looking forward to the next year when they'll move on up to Varsity.

The 1983-84 Boys Varsity Cheerleaders were chosen in April of 1983. After practicing for many weeks, they traveled to U.K. July 5-8 for a camp sponsored by the Universal Cheerleading Association. During camp evaluations, the cheerleaders earned all Superior Ribbons, as well as a Spirit Stick. They also were ranked in the Top 10 Squads of the whole camp.

Before the season started, the cheerleaders sponsored a cheerleading clinic for the elementary and middle school cheerleaders. They earned enough money from this project to purchase new uniforms. The new uniforms provided a new look as well as a new peppier atmosphere at games.

District Competition was held at G.C.H.S. this year and the Braves' Cheerleaders won first place, and the right to attend Regional Competition. The Regionals were held at Bullitt Central High School and the G.C.H.S. Cheerleaders did an excellent job by placing 4th out of the 11 squads that competed.

Quality Cheer Leaders

The most important quality for a cheerleader is the ability to get along with other squad members. This statement proved true as the 1983-84 Varsity Cheerleading squad gave G.C.H.S. something to remember and be proud of. There are many rules and regulations to follow when being a cheerleader. One of these requirements is attending cheerleading camp as a squad. This year the squad and sponsor attended Eastern Kentucky University in Richmond. At camp they acquire many chants, floor cheers, and various routines which assisted them in their season games. Each squad was evaluated every day. Coming home with dignity they brought with them 3 spirit sticks, 3 superior and 3 excellent ribbons. This season was the third year for the KAPOS involving the Girls Varsity Cheerleaders in District Competition. After many hours of practice the girls were proud of their first place trophy they earned in the competition. They were then eligible for Regionals along with Williamstown. They were chosen for the annual Pat Dolly K-Pep Award. This award is given to the squad with the most pep, spirit, and enthusiasm during the season and is selected by all the squads throughout the Region.

Braves Reach Finals

Our 1983-84 baseball team had a successful year winning seven of their fourteen games. Although the Braves were defeated in the finals of the district by a score of 11-1, they were not discouraged. They then returned to play Mason Co. in the first round of the regionals in which they were victorious. They then played Lewis in which they gave a valiant effort to a losing cause. The final was 5-3.

Leading the team this season, Junior Jeff Stith was chosen most valuable player for his exceptional batting average. The Braves will return with hopes of a better year.

Track: Six New Records Set!!

This year, the boys' and girls' track team finished off the year exceptionally well!! In all, six new school records were set. Those people included: Mark Kinsey, Marlon Kinsey, Andrea Dedier (with two) and Kelli Phillippi (with two). The girls tried for 6th in the Regionals and went on to qualify ten in the Sectionals.

The boys finished 5th in the Region and qualified three members to the Sectionals in five events.

Mr. Baker summed up his team by saying, "This is their best record teamwise, for several years."

The 1984 Golf Team, coached by C. R. Wenderoth, started their season on April 2 with a home match against Erlanger-Lloyd. They won this match with a score of 166 to 172. The team, consisting of Juniors Tim Day, Doug Parks, Larry Martin, and Carter Hassman, as well as Sophomore Robbie Adams and 8th Grader Chris Camacho, were victorious in every regular season match they competed in. They also played in four tournaments. In the Eagle Creek Invitational, they received an excellent 3rd place with a total score of 309. Their final record was 26-0 in regular season and 27-25 for tournament play. This made the 1984 Grant County Braves Golf Team finish with an impressive record of 53-25.

Get Involved!!!

Clubs help to make the school year more exciting. The normal routine of school just isn't enough!! It provides a chance for students to get involved in a certain club, such as Student Council. They can play volleyball for their clubs, too. And that's always fun!! It is the perfect time to let out the frustrations of school. Some clubs, such as FBLA, teach their members about future business occupations and how to prepare for them. People also join clubs to be with others that share the same interest. And if you're not athletic, you could always join a club to help pass your time at high school away.

"Slave Drivers!!"

The beginning of the 1983-84 school year brought a one-day seminar to Tumbleweed Inn in Fort Wright, Ky. This trip helped Grantonian staff members to better understand yearbook production. The next goal was to provide a better yearbook by selling ads to local businesses. To help yearbook sales, Georgian Portraits came to our school and gave a slide show production, including photos of GCHS students, to help boost the yearbook orders.

Throughout the year, Grantonian staff members worked and slaved over Quad-Paks and write-ups to provide a better yearbook for students. Creative minds and lots of patience was a necessity to get through the course. Layouts were drawn up, themes were thought of, and many interviews were done. One of the most important jobs, was taking pictures. Thanks to our educated staff members, photographers, and Georgian Portraits, we present this yearbook!!!

4-H Shows Talent

This year, was the 4-H Club's 75th Anniversary, and they have been very busy.

March 17th, a few members participated in a speech demonstration, showing their talent in that area.

Another activity they took part in was an area variety show, March 10th, in which Angie Gulick received third place for her talent in baton-twirling. Heath Barnes, Kim Afterkirk, Tona Sponcil also won first place overall in the vet-science division.

4-H has also had fashion reviews and bread baking contests.

Grant County is fortunate to have an active club such as 4-H.

Specializing in the advancement of business education for students is what FBLA is all about. This year, they had FBLA Week in which different activities were scheduled throughout the week, such as dressing up like business people and a pizza party after school. Sponsors of FBLA are Mrs. West, Mrs. Schuetz, and Mrs. Yeager. A few goals for the future business leaders are to develop competent, aggressive leadership in business, and to strengthen the confidence of students in their work and in themselves.

Working Towards a Better School!!

This club which is sponsored by Mr. Thompson and Mrs. Davidson plays a big role in the school. The representatives which were picked by homerooms, come up with ideas to make a better school. This year some activities include: collecting money to fix the bathrooms, co-sponsoring the dance-a-thon, having a softball league, and having exchange students come to tour the school.

Student Council enables the students of GCHS to promote their ideas through the student council member, and to help better the school system.

This club strives to accomplish what the students request, and tries to get the job done.

Co-sponsor of Student Council, Mrs. Davidson, thought that the 1984 organization "had great potential for helping to make changes in the school."

One of the major festivities was the 1st Annual Jr.-Sr. Masquerade Dance. With the music provided by David Arnold, the night proved to be a great success.

Throughout the year, Student Council has spent valuable time with students and faculty trying to promote better attitudes towards our school.

Mrs. Davidson helped to sum up her club by saying, "Student Council should be a representation and voice of the entire student body."

Raising Spiritual Interests

Teens for Christ promotes the idea of Christ and his influence on the lives of teenagers. This club sponsors the Christmas program which was cancelled because of snow. The Easter program was a huge success!! Participating in this program were a few talented members from the Teens for Christ club. This club is for the students to better comprehend what the Bible stands for. This helps you to understand how today's religious ways affect you. Sponsor, Mr. John Money, helped keep things running smooth and had a big part along with the members in making the program and club a success.

The Library Club, sponsored by Mrs. Smoot, learns many things that deal with library.

They tape shows frequently, for different teachers' educational purposes. And they also watch various tapes to help further their own knowledge.

Members are taught to work projectors and VCR machines for the material they tape. Library Club helps students interested in working in the audiovisual area.

NHS Inducts Thirteen

Over the year, National Honor Society has greatly been involved in Grant County High.

At the beginning of the year, National Honor Society had their inductions. The thirteen new members were: David Arnold, Missy Dills, Pam Jones, Nancy Beach, Peter MacAdams, Thad Workman, Melissa Renaker, Michelle Merryman, Doug Parks, Ronnie Poole, Jeff Stith, Nancy Willoughby, and Robbie Stone.

After the program, the older National Honor Society members had a reception to welcome the new member in the club.

Thanks to sponsors Mr. Berger and Mrs. Yeager, the program was a huge success.

After the fall inductions, National Honor Society maintained their stability by sponsoring the booths at the ball games and having a picnic at the Webb Park.

The profits made from the ball games went towards medals and academic letters for Honors Night.

At the picnic, NHS members got involved in a volleyball game against each other. After the game, everyone enjoyed a delicious lunch provided by different members of the club. And as for the Honor's Night, it was a huge success thanks to Mr. Berger and Mrs. Yeager.

Industrious, Hardworking FHA!!

Future Homemakers of America is a club that was organized to help the community. One of the first things this club did was to hold a contest at GCHS to provide the most irresistible guy. After a little hard work and a lot of sweet talk, Sr. Greg Marksberry walked away with the title. Next, to help produce better surroundings, FHA members rolled up their sleeves and used a little elbow grease to provide cleaner bus service. To help make Grant County a place of fitness, Sponsors Pat Boggs and Karen Davidson, held Aerobics classes two nights a week for six weeks. Throughout the year, FHA made babysitting services available to those who wanted to watch the ball games without the worry of young children.

Brighter Outlook in Science Field

Science associated activities are available for the members with the help of sponsor Mrs. Diane Reed.

This year, one of their projects was sponsoring the Science Fair, which enabled many students to enter their projects. Receiving awards for their efforts were Chris Rodgers and Pam Jones.

The Science Club is also planning a trip to Natural Bridge at the end of the school year. Science club offers much experience for students to help them in the science field. Those involved in the Science Club have a brighter outlook in the science field.

Smoke Signal:

Keeping Students Informed

The Smoke Signal was organized to help keep students informed of current events. Each month the members strive to print a better paper than the month before. To make the December issue special, Christmas wishes were sold to the students and faculty to wish all friends a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

The job of sponsors, Mrs. Sandy Lillard and Editor, Jennifer Rodgers, is a big responsibility, but with the help of Co-Editor Doena Kinman and other staff members, they complete a successful newspaper.

Letterpersons Earn Jackets

Letterperson, sponsored by Mr. Wendroth, is an organization for students who have earned at least one varsity letter in a sport area of some kind.

It is also greatly involved in sponsoring the Thanksgiving assembly and gathering food for the needy families in the area.

Members also had the opportunity to purchase school jackets this year with the Brave insignia and names on the front.

Pep Raises Spirit!!!

Keeping the enthusiasm of the crowd, cheering on their team, and letting the opponents know that Grant County school is alive, is what Pep Club is all about. Pep rallies are great with the cheerleaders leading Brave's fans into spirit!!

Near the end of the year, the Pep Club took a bus to the regional tournament at Henry Co., Ky.

The burning of the Demon at the Bonfire was to help everyone to get psyched up before the game against Williamstown. The spirit chain went to the juniors, who had the most pep and school spirit. Most everyone participated in buying the links for the chain. The money went to better finance the club.

Learning Foreign Cultures

The 1983-84 Spanish Club, sponsored by Mrs. Lillard, has done a few activities this year.

They have once again indulged in good food with their taco party and Christmas party. At the Christmas party, students exchanged gifts and ate cake.

To get students more aware of Spanish customs, Mrs. Lillard divided an invitation pinata which in reality was a "bucket" filled with candy. Spanish Club members held a skating party at Williamstown, to celebrate their success. All in all, the year was great for the Spanish Club.

The Collector's Club, sponsored by Fred Money, is one of the unique clubs at GCHS. The club's primary purpose is to increase the member's knowledge and interests. They also trade, buy, and sell their hobbies such as: baseball cards, coins, stamps, and comic books.

Collector's club also has guest speakers come to talk to the students about their hobbies. This helps them to expand their interests and help them select a certain hobby they might enjoy.

Strategy Club is basically designed to organize role playing and board games for after school activities. Some of the games they play are: Dungeons and Dragons, Space Marines, and Diplomacy. They include adventures about outer space and medieval times. These matches provide a challenge for them and advance their mentality levels. Marching . . . Music Trophies!!

The Grant County Marching Band began its 1983 season on October 10 at the Bath County Competition. It was a tense time for everyone, especially the freshmen, who were wondering what their first competition would be like. It didn't take long to find out, because in minutes, the music started and the marching began.

When the trophy announcements were made, Grant County had placed third!

During the season, the band went to Ashland, Mason County, Butler, Lexington Lions Club, and Washington County. They brought home a trophy from almost every competition they went to!!!

It had been an exciting season for the marching band participants, but it wasn't all over yet. The close of marching season is also the opening of concert band and pep band. The concert band involves a lot of hard work to prepare for the Christmas presentation. As soon as that is done, they start working on their spring concert.

The band is a big part of school spirit. Pep band also helps to boost school spirit at ball games. People heard familiar tunes like "Go Big Blue," the "Wardance," and they also heard the new school song.

Grant County Offers Opportunity

Grant County School offers many opportunities for students, to help them get experienced for the future. A few are Vocational School, Co-Oping, and being an Aid for a faculty member.

Going to a Vocational School enables students to learn a specific trade and develop their skills, for a headstart in life.

Students that Co-Op leave school early, and go to a job assigned to them by Mrs. West. This helps in the search of a job, and gives valuable experience.

A few students help out with errands to be done for teachers, and in the office. These aides make the burden lighter and their help is appreciated. All of these activities together are a great asset for students at Grant County.

Modern Farming in FFA

FFA is an organization that helps students to better understand farming of 80's. This club also teaches students the proper techniques for producing a better crop. This year students participated in the raising and caring for tobacco crops. Another project they mastered was the assembly of the corn planters. This took a lot of understanding and intellectual comprehension. To take a break from their farming duties, FFA members undertook the task of welding. This proved to be a mechanical challenge. Thanks to careful guidance from Mr. Howard and Mr. Courts, the members of this club are on their way to being a new generation of Farmer Browns.

These are familiar words for the Drama Club, (Act I Production). Sponsors for Drama Club are Mr. Thompson and Mr. Kleymeyer. Their main achievements for the year, among others, was a presentation of Neil Simon's "Come Blow Your Horn."

Drama Club offers a chance for cultural enrichment in Grant County, something we are in desperate need of. This enables people to travel a shorter distance in search of entertainment. Act I Productions is a prize opportunity for people to enjoy the Arts in this community.

Two members of Drama Club, Mollie Brewsaugh and Tony Colson, and a non-member, Becky Noel, entered a competition in the Kentucky High School Speech League at N.K.U. March 3rd. After performing, (a scene and a radio-television broadcast), they placed in the top six out of 29 teams. This awarded the opportunity to participate in the State competition April 6th.

Activities Enhance Student Life

Activities play a big role in student life at GCHS. The Variety Show, sponsored by Miss Curtis, was a big hit. It included comedy skits, with the characters portrayed by Speech and Drama club members. Another big success was the Easter Program, in which many students expressed their feelings about Easter. No high school year would be complete without a Prom. This year, the Continental Inn, located in Lexington, Ky., provided the setting for the 1983-84 Prom. The activities at GCHS show that students really know how to have fun.

Holiday Highlights

A big success this year was the Easter program sponsored by members of Teens for Christ and their advisor John Money. Bernie Webb, President of this active club opened the program with a prayer. Following prayer several students showed their talent and entertained the student body by singing various songs. Mollie Brewsaugh and David Damron read scripture telling of the story of how Christ died for us. Greg Marksberry ended the program by giving an example of how everything of little importance is talked about all the time and how, when a man named Jesus died for our sins and no one seems to care.

Students Receive High Honors

The G.C.H.S. Science Fair was held at the G.C.H.S. Gym on March 17. Students from grades K-12 participated in the county-wide fair. Judging of the projects took place in the morning and awards were passed out later that day.

Ten students from G.C.H.S. participated in the fair. Eight of them received high honors which enabled them to attend the Regional Science Fair in Morehead. The fair's sponsor, Dianne Reed, was very impressed with the fair's success.

We Made It!

Class Night was held on May 27, 1984 at Grant County High. Class gifts were presented by Sandy Iseral and Mike Rodgers. Along the entertainment line were songs sung by 6 of the graduating seniors.

Part of the program included reminiscing about special and strange events that took place in their previous years at GCHS.

The grand finale of the program was the 1984 Senior Class joining together to sing, "Looks Like We Made It." It represented twelve years of hard work all put into one extraordinary evening.

Graduation: A Part Of Life!!

Graduation is always a major part of one's life. At graduation, thoughts were told, hugs exchanged, and everyone had the time of their lives. The guest speaker, Dave Linn inspired the graduates with his comments. After the ceremony tears were shed, and joy filled the air!! Everyone knew of their accomplishments . . . and were thrilled!!

The Class With Class

As the year reached an end, many of the Seniors were glad to see one of their long awaited goals completed — graduation. The road to graduation isn't easy. A time of decisions. Deciding on a career, a vocation, a college, etc. The Senior year is a time of joy that the twelve years of school will soon be over yet there is sorrow, for each person entering into a new future leaving acquainted friends to make new. After leaving, many friendships will continue while others will end. One can look ahead on what's to come. Memories of laughter, good conversation comes, to mind. At times, it seemed days at school would never end. Many tears have fallen and many goodbyes, but an end must come to all things in time.

Decisions, Decisions . . .

Being a junior is a time for making many decisions and taking on responsibilities. Preparing for the prom is a main event for juniors, facing the decision on the theme, song, and colors of the Junior-Senior Prom. The Junior prom committee also decides the location of the prom as well as who will be there to entertain. This is a very difficult task because the committee has to please all the students for it may be a memorable occasion and they will cherish it forever.

Finding jobs and finishing our education are two of the main challenges of the world today. To help us finish our education for that special occupation, we may have in mind, GCHS had a career day for juniors and seniors. Many classmates became well acquainted with the college in which they are planning to attend. Others made up their minds by talking to others.

Preparing for College

"I like the ACT test. It gave me three offers of various colleges and I rated one of the top juniors." — Tim Webster. Being a junior makes you eligible for the ACT test. Members of the junior class had to rise bright and early on a Saturday morning to attend the ceremony. This test is required for entrance into any college. It will examine the knowledge of students wishing to attend the college of their choice.

At the beginning of our school year, each class chose class officers. For outstanding juniors the officers are: President — Ronnie Poole, Vice-President — Jennifer Burton, Secretary — Nancy Beach, Sergeant-at-Arms — Craig Simpson. These positions are very important to the class when it comes to Graduation time, and the Seniors hand down the 'Senior Key.'

Junior Spirit

The juniors show their spirit by participating in various school activities. November 13 was another spectacular event for juniors. The class of "85" kept their tradition of showing spirit by winning the spirit chain for the second consecutive year. The spectators were entertained by our high school band and our cheerleaders. The tremendous event celebrated at the bon-fire was the ball game between the Grant County Braves and the Williamstown Demons. To emphasize the rivalry we had the burning of a demon, which was thrown in the fire by Senior Chris Spillman. On November 17 twelve of the intellectual juniors were involved in the National Honor Society inductions: David Arnold, Nancy Beach, Missy Dills, Pam Jones, Michelle Merryman, Doug Parks, Ronnie Poole, Melissa Renaker, Jeff Stith, Robbie Stone, Nancy Willoughby.

After a hard day of school work, juniors then look for a relaxing and enjoyable way to spend their out of school hours like going to various hang-outs such as the new McDonald's. Sophomores

Stuck in the Middle

For many sophomore students their second year of high school seems to be dull and unexciting. They are used to and familiar with high school life, but there was still so much to look forward to, and still so much to discover about GCHS and themselves.

The newness of high school has worn off, but graduation and their senior year still seems so far away. Sophomores are able to look back at their first year and remember all the fond memories. They can look back on what they have learned and look into the future at what is to come.

The year is brightened with club activities, school dances, candy sales, basketball games, and the ordering of their Senior rings. Suddenly, the sophomore year does not seem so dull to many Sophomore students.

Sophomores: Working Hard

For many sophomore students their second year of high school at GCHS can be difficult. New opportunities to apply themselves in harder classes are available.

This year many sophomore students' schedules consisted of geometry, biology, trigonometry, typing, English, and World history. Studying was the answer to earning good grades in their difficult classes.

When tenth graders were asked what they would remember about their sophomore year, the replies included the following: "... I will will never forget of all the spirit that the class of '84' has this year!!!" — Christina Fannin. "... my sophomore year has been my most challenging year." — Rick Marquardt. "... The boom of Michael Jackson's Thriller album." — Lanette Woodyard.

Money, Money, Money!

Making money was what President Robie Adams, Vice President Christy Howe, Secretary/Treasurer Summer LaWarre, and Sergeant-at-Arms Dennis Stecht had on their minds for the Sophomore Class. The officers and Advisor Mrs. Lillard's goal was to get an early start in making money for their Junior-Senior Prom.

To earn the money they needed, the class officers, along with the rest of the class, set out to sell candy with a goal of $1,920 profit in mind.

On February 2, the sophomores started their candy sales by having a meeting in the gym and passing out plain and peanut M&M's as well as candy bars.

Positive thoughts, and a lot of hard work and determination are what made the candy sales so successful.

Freshmen

— Toni Conley

Starting Over

1983-84 Freshmen were surprised and bewildered at the new environment of the high school. This was a new beginning and a great experience for the newcomers. Now they realized that it was time to face up to reality and take part in school activities. Of course, there was time to have fun, but they had to work hard, too. High school years are the very best. The four years are very important because they reflect on the future and could determine what kind of job you receive. Being a Freshman is difficult at first, because you are new and just getting used to the territory. Many Freshmen dread coming to high school while otehrs are enthusiastic about it such as Jennifer Caldwell and Sherry Good. They said that "It was a new experience, one of our many, and it's great to be a member of the Class of '87!"

A Great Experience

The exciting part about being a Freshman is all the great memories you will have when you get out of school. You make new friends and have a blast. There are new experiences which are good, but some just don't seem to be the best. Freshmen have got to remember that upperclassmen look down on lowerclassmen, but everyone goes through that. Just thinking about becoming a Sophomore, Junior, and then a Senior is something to look forward to.

Freshmen get to do a lot more things now than in their previous years. There are many exciting activities and clubs to take part in while the journey of high school begins.

Be Nice

While working on the Freshman layout, Lori Walters and I came across a small problem — we needed another write-up. We spent the next few days scanning our brains for an idea — but nothing came. We couldn't think of anything. The Freshmen have accomplished nothing!!

So we are stuck with a page of "nothing" covering up all the white space. All there is to say is that Freshmen spend their year trying to figure out the school, how it works, and where everything is. And by the time they have done this, the school year is over, and most will go on to be Sophomores.

It's a strange year, and there's a lot to be said for them. They put up with all the "comments" from the upperclassmen ... and that's enough to drive them insane!!

In conclusion, we see that Freshmen have it rough and we should all show just a little bit of respect for them. BE NICE!!!

Sincerely,
Lanette Woodyard

The Class

The time has come I do believe,
To watch the class before me leave.
And as I see you go this year,
I know my time will soon be near.
The times we've shared, the fun we've had.
We've come to know school's not so bad.
We love you all and this you know.
We really hate to see you go.
We wish you all the best of things,
And hope you'll find the joy life brings.
They say the world is rough out there,
We'll all be prayin' so take good care.
Again good luck in all you do,
'Cause life was meant for each of you.
The time has come, it's here at last,
Good luck to you, members of "The Class."

Larry Martin

Marriage Prep is a class which allows you to learn more about yourself and your partner. One event that takes place in this class is the annual mock wedding. This year was the first of 4 years for the wedding to be held in a church. This mock wedding was held at the Dry Ridge Baptist Church and the ceremony performed by Rev. John Simpson. Participation of the wedding ceremony was formed by the 3 Marriage Prep. classes. The most important participant in any wedding ceremony are the bride and groom, they were portrayed by Fonda Jill Harvey and Daniel Goodman Martin. The bus and several cars were decorated for a parade that would let everyone know that Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Martin are joined together as one.

The Grant County High School 1984 Junior-Senior Prom was held on April 28th at the Continental Inn in Lexington, Ky. The Prom Theme was "Only You", and the colors were light and royal blue along with gold. Ham, roast beef, potatoes, fruit salad and iced tea were served as the meal. "Disco Party Tunes" played the entertaining dance music which was one of the highlights of the Prom.

Everyone enjoyed the large dance floor. Mr. John Money, one of the sponsors of the Prom, stated that the Prom was a tremendous success. Mrs. Smoot, the other sponsor, thought the Prom was enjoyable, but she wished the food was a little better. Of course the major highlight of the Prom was the Ceremonial Crowning of the Royal Couples. Junior Class President, Ron Poole and Vice-President, Jennifer Burton proudly crowned Becky O'Nan, Princess and Craig Simpson Prince. They also crowned Lisa Wainscott, Queen and David Damron as King. In total, there were 194 Students at the prom and each of them had a tremendous time.

As the 1983-84 school year comes to an end several tears will be shed by Seniors and the underclassmen also. A lot of special memories and fun times will be going their separate ways planning for college, marriage or some type of career which holds their interest. The underclassmen will spend their summer goofing off and preparing for the following years of school. The closing of school brings forth the ripening of Freshmen and the pick of the crop, the Seniors. No matter where we go or what we do, Grant County High will stay in our special thoughts forever.

As another school year comes to an end,
With all it's fashions and all it's trends,
We'll be looking forward to summer fun,
Swimming, working and soaking up sun,
This year was special as all years may be,
It was a time to grow and a time to feel free,
Looking forward to our future and all of our dreams,
Looking back at the time when we pulled all those schemes,
Memories are one thing everyone will recall,
Our 84 school year will be remembered by all.

The 1984 edition of the Grantonian was prepared by the students of Grant County High School and printed by offset lithography of Taylor Publishing Company in Dallas, Texas for fall delivery.

The headline style is 70 UPS. Four-color was used on pages 18, 19, 22, 23, 26, 27, 30, and 31. Cameras used were: J. Caldwell, Nikon EM; Good, Mamiya SD; Webster, Ricoh KR-Super; Nantz, Pentax K-1000; and Conley, Minolta SRT-201.

The body type face was Melior Standard, paper was Matte, 80 pound, and the binding material was Smythsewn. The cover material was Red 061 with an embossed Angora grain. The two colors applied were tan and gold.

All professional photographs, including Seniors, underclassmen, and faculty, were taken by Osborne Photographic Laboratories in Cincinnati, Ohio. Press run was 450 copies with 176 pages.

Grantonian Readers:

This year, our yearbook brings on a whole new concept. It brings on new staff members, new photographers, and most of all, a new Editor. It was rough in the beginning, not even knowing where to start, but we feel that upon completion of this 1984 Grantonian, you will find it to be the most enjoyable one yet!!

At this time, we would like to thank some special people, for, without whom, we couldn't have finished this book. A very special thanks to our Advisor, Jeff Martin, who has been very helpful to us all (except for his grading scale!), Gail Hubbard for her captivating cartoon, all the teachers who allowed us to get out of class to work on the book and to help the photographers, and Mr. Brill for all the help he provided on getting the club pictures on such short notice.

As we draw near to the close of another school year here at Grant County High, we would like especially to thank the advertisers who purchased ads, for without them, the Grantonian would not be possible!! And always remember and never forget, MARTIN STINKS!!!

Sincerely,
Nancy Willoughby

Dwayne,

I think that you're a very sweet person, I've always thought very highly of you. You just have that quality of being sincere. We have had some good times, even though we've drifted apart. I'll remember them (the good times) for ever - that I'll remember that in these last 2 years we could straighten things out. I wished though you knew I'm a "bitch"!
